

CIOB Benevolent fund

The service of advice and support is available for members and their families.

If you have concerns about employment, housing, finances or would just like to speak to someone, we're here and ready to offer advice and support.

The CIOB Benevolent Fund has offered support and guidance to thousands of members for over 25 years. To find out how we help members visit:

www.ciob.org/about/ciob-benevolent-fund

Ways that we can help:

- Offer advice and support
- Assist families with budgeting advice and help identify sources of additional help
- Financial support to help members and their families overcome spells of financial pressure
- Provide advice and guidance in matters of employment/housing rights and help liaise with statutory services
- Help with the costs of short-term skills-based training

Making a positive difference through practical and financial assistance:

- Providing monthly support for a family facing hardship as a result of illness
- Supporting a single parent to manage their household budget
- Assisting a member with disabilities to obtain adaptations at home

If you'd like to know more about the CIOB Benevolent Fund and read more about how to apply for financial assistance, full details are accessible here:

All enquiries are treated in total confidence.

The CIOB Benevolent Fund is resourced wholly by the voluntary donations of members and we take this opportunity to thank donors for their valued support over the years.

If you'd like to support the work of the CIOB Benevolent Fund, you'll find an option to add a donation to your Subscription payment. You'll be able to make any donation worth 20% more by completing a Gift Aid declaration and sending it to us (available via the above web link).

The service of advice and support is available to all members, past and present.

To apply for financial assistance you can download and complete an application form at: www.ciob.org.uk/about/ciob-benevolent-fund

If you would like to make a donation, please either add it to your Subscription sum, or visit the Members area of the CIOB website: <http://membership.ciob.org>

A Gift Aid form is available via the Benevolent Fund webpage.
